WEST ACTION BODY BUILDS UP STRENGTH

Two more councils have joined the Western Regional Commission, giving it representation of about 800 square miles and half-a-million people.

The commission, made up of eight councils originally, has now accepted Bacchus Marsh Council as a member and Bulla Council has indicated it will also join.

The Bulla indication came after talks last week, between the council's representatives and the commission's vice-chairman, Cr. Bryan Bailey and secretary, Mr. Bill Williams.

The Bulla delegation

Two more councils join commission comprised six councillors who decided unanimously to recommend their council join the commission.

Because Bulla Council comprises only nine members, their recommendation is certain to be adopted.

Other councils in the Western Region Commission are Footscray, Sunshine, Altona, Williamstown, Werribee, Essendon, Melton and Keilor.

The commission met on Sunday to define its membership because of the forthcoming Federal Budget, when a financial allocation could be made to the western region.

Commission chairman, Cr. Don Myers, said yesterday it was put to Sunday's meeting that the "moment of truth" had arrived, when council should state if they were or were not in the commission.

Footscray, Sunshine, Werribee, Keilor and Bacchus Marsh delegates immediately announced their councils were firm members, Cr. Myers said.

The Bulla Council representatives said they had no doubt at all that after their next meeting they would also be firmly committed to the commission.

Delegates from the other four councils, Altona, Williamstown, Essendon and Melton, said also they had no doubt their councils would decide on firm membership of the commission.

Cr. Myers said Altona and Williamstown councils had attended all commission meetings, had made financial contributions and were not against the overall concepts of the commission's activities.

Council still opposes Paisley home estate

Altona Council is still opposed to the Housing Commission's plans for development of the Paisley housing estate.

The continued opposition is in the face of big modifications to the original plan, announced last week.

The basis of the modified plan is to drop the population of the area from 8100 people to 6600 and allow more parkland and car parking space.

A council spokesman said yesterday the council agreed the area — centred around the old briquette dump in Mason Street — was suitable for residential development.

But the agreement was subject to buildings being more than two storeys high and housing not being developed in the south-western corner of the estate, close to industry.

The council decided at its meeting last week, on the resolution of Cr. W. L. J. Crofts, the modification proposals be noted and referred to the general purpose committee for discussion and report.

It decided also to try and arrange an inspection of a prototype development in Moray Street, South Melbourne.

It is understood that before last week's meeting, the council had long talks with its consultant adviser, Professor F. W. Ledger, professor of town and regional planning at Melbourne University, and Professor C. Robertson, professor of architecture at the same university.

The spokesman said: "The council opinion is that the concept is so alien to existing building and residential types in Altona that it believes this medium-rise high-density proposal would be unacceptable to the area."

The next step was for the Board of Works to study the Housing Commission's proposal.

If the board agreed with it, the council, as an objector, would have the right to seek a hearing by the Town Planning Appeals Tribunal.

The spokesman said the council had kept district State MPs informed on its views and sought their assistance in ensuring any Housing Commission development in the area would conform with existing residential standards.

Announcing the modifications, the Housing Commission secretary said a range of two, three and four storey buildings would be provided, giving a wide variety of one to four bedroom accommodation.

Altona council's present by-laws restrict residential buildings to two storeys.

... and so does Williamstown

The proposed housing estate in Mason Street, Altona, would increase traffic problems, and hinder police in fighting the mounting crime wave in Williamstown.

This was claimed in a letter by Mr. K. L. Berrie, secretary of the Paisley Action Committee, which has been formed to fight the proposed housing estate.

The letter, read in Williamstown council on Monday night enclosed a copy of a motion passed at a public meeting held in Altona, which opposed the density and planning of this estate.

It was claimed the estate would have other problems as well: lack of schools in the area, motor vehicles would have to be parked away from homes (including ambulances) and closeness to industry.

World trip a lesson for Altona

Mr. Ralph Simmons, Altona's city engineer, who recently came back from an overseas trip, brought back some ideas that will improve the Altona foreshore.

Mr. Simmons has also studied modern practices in garbage disposal while in Europe, America and Canada.

South Africa was his first stop. He said the average white person there is better off in the materialistic sense than his counterpart in Australia.

"I'm surprised not more tourists go there, they had so much to offer," he said.

Mr. Simmons was impressed by Durban, which he said has a magnificent sea front and foreshore works.

The color problem in South Africa is more complicated than many people think, Mr. Simmons said. "It's a pity that a lot of Australians hold very strong opinions on subjects they don't know the full facts about," he said.

"We should realise that if big numbers of colored people were to move into the cities, it would be impossible to absorb them all. "Some strict control is necessary."

The volume of building is greater in Israel than anywhere else in the world, Mr. Simmons said.

He found the French Riviera very attractive with steep mountains close to the beach, but he said they certainly weren't the nice, sandy beaches we have in Australia.

Mr. Simmons said Munich was a very clean city, where the people wouldn't think of dropping a piece of paper on the road — they were too proud of their city to spoil it with litter.

"The people of Amsterdam were the friendliest you could meet," Mr. Simmons said. "They put themselves out to help you if you asked for directions."

However, the city had a lot of hippies living on the streets, which made the city less clean than Munich.

In London the population is greatly concerned that the city may lose its character. Old houses are pulled down to make way for flats, Mr. Simmons said.

San Francisco, Los Angeles and Santiago were big cities with major problems which Mr. Simmons hoped Melbourne will never have to face.

The problems included size, location and an increasing smog.

While in Hollywood Mr. Simmons visited Universal Studios to see how films were made.

Many of the homes owned by film stars were no better than houses in Melbourne, Mr. Simmons said. "I was shocked to see the front garden of Dean Martin's — it didn't have a lawn, but was full of ivy!"

■ Mr. Ralph Simmons

SHE MADE HER GOWN

Cutting the cake at the reception at Footscray Town Hall which followed their marriage are Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Page.

The bride, the former Lyn Grieves crocheted her sleeveless wool gown and fitted jacket. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Grieves, of Blackshaws Road, North Altona.

The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Page, of Williamstown Road, Yarraville.

Iris Cass and Pat Harley attended the bride. Peter Harley was best man and Gary Page was groomsman.

NURSING MOTHERS' MEETING

The art of breast feeding will be the discussion subject at the next meeting of the Nursing Mothers' Association, at 8 p.m. on August 8.

The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. D. Watt, 85 Railway Parade, Williamstown. A film on breast feeding will be shown during the meeting.

Val's Column

Hello Girls, Let's face it Girls, our skin varies over the years. The last few years have seen a great change in the type and the amount of cosmetics we apply to our skin.

Our faces can breathe now, without layers of foundation and puffs upon puffs of powder. All the more reason for proper control of our skin quality now-a-days, so the passing seasons don't leave any tell-tale stories.

You realise the cleanser and toner you used last winter may not feel quite as efficient today. Now and again a small adjusting may need to be made in the product you use.

More so in fact with your daytime moisturiser/protector and your night cream.

I don't mean every year, but you will know yourself. If you wonder if one or both of these creams do not reward your skin as they did before, come and enquire as to a slightly richer feeding cream.

In the past you may have used the same cream day and night. Why not try a night cream for each evening. Just a little more of moisture, or oils, whichever you feel you need.

Revlon Eterna "27" is the remarkable, one-of-a-kind skin cream that has brought dramatic, visible results to women's skins in six out of every ten cases treated. After just forty days of faithful use, see why Revlon believes it will do more for your skin than any other cosmetic cream.

Eterna "27" Cleansing Formula Eterna "27" Toning Formula and Eterna "27" Facial Mask Formula are important in preparing your skin for the wonderful Progenitin enriched day and night creams.

Revlon realise as the years go by the tissues, around our eyes and our throat need special attention — so Eterna "27" gives you a special cream suitable for each of these areas.

New series of adult classes

Enrolments for the Council of Adult Education's new term opened on July 30.

The term will start in September.

About 200 day and night classes are available at city and suburban centres. These will be repeated for people who missed out earlier in the year. The most popular classes again will be held at the Laverton High School and the Altona Library. Courses include subjects like pottery, art, current affairs and psychology.

At Laverton, a course in painting for beginners will be under the direction of Terence Custons Cole.

A course in gardening, for the practical home gardener, will be held at Altona.

Plant selection, shrubs and trees, roses, annuals and vegetables will be among the topics discussed.

The everyday problems of bringing up children will be dealt with during the discussion series "The family and society", hosted by Dr. L. J. Murphy.

Copies of syllabus are available, free of charge, from most suburban libraries or book shops. Or they can be obtained by telephoning the council's Flinders Street office (63 4231).

LABOR 2 TRY FOR COUNCIL

Two Labor Party members — one a former councillor of nine years' experience — will contest the Altona Council elections next month.

The former councillor is Mr. Alex Bond and his running mate is Trieste-born Mr. Tom Lavorato, a naturalised Australian citizen.

Mr. Bond, a justice of the peace and former shire president before Altona was created a city, was a councillor from 1959 — two years after the proclamation of Altona Shire — to 1968.

The council during this time was Labor-controlled, with only one independent member, Cr. W. L. J. Crofts.

Many of the facilities available to Altona people today were provided during this period, Mr. Bond said yesterday. The financial policies adopted by the council of that period had later been criticised, but had been responsible for lending money to the Board of Works.

This money had provided sewerage to the Altona Hospital and main shopping centre area.

Mr. Bond travelled the world as a member of the R.A.N., then joined the staff of the Board of Works.

He has been secretary of the Footscray ex-Naval Association for many years and is active in Altona Elderly Citizens' Club.

Mr. Bond yesterday criticised the present independent - controlled council for what he called "short-sighted policies".

The winter fuel allowance to pensioners had been cut this year, he said; the rubbish removal unit was impossible to obtain; the nature strip mowing gang had been reduced to a shadow and the council was allowing the State Government to control its activities.

'Fiery Latin'

If elected, he would seek rate reform, rate reductions to pensioners and full financial support for the free legal aid service in the western suburbs.

Mr. Lavorato, described by a spokesman for Altona A.L.P. branch as "a fiery Latin," has a long history of social democratic activities.

In Italy he was youth welfare director for the Social Democrats and in Australia was active in the A.L.P.'s policy of uniting people from overseas and native Australians into a co-operative community, the spokesman said.

Mr. Lavorato said yesterday that the Altona Council had become isolated from the community.

People felt they had no protection from flat developers and property speculators; children's lives were threatened by speeding traffic; there was pollution from unfenced rubbish dumps in Blackshaws Road and no benefits were received in return for rate payments.

A commodity traffic coordinator with the Victorian Railways, Mr. Lavorato is active in the Australian Railways Union and the Federation of Italian Workers.

He indicated that he would stand on a platform of open government, rate reform and development of community facilities based on the European model of social democracy.

Mr. J. L. Dalgetty, general manager of Altona Petrochemical Co., is pictured presenting scholarship awards.

Altona Petrochemical Co. has for many years awarded scholarships to Form 5 and 6 students attending secondary schools in Altona.

The scholarships, valued at $80 each, are awarded to students who have the potential and desire to undertake tertiary studies.

Holders of Commonwealth Government scholarships are excluded.

West action body builds up strength

Questions had been asked, however, against some aspects of the proposals and developments had not gone far enough for these to be answered.

Altona and Williams-town councils had not, therefore, yet made formal decisions on their involvement with the commission.

The Essendon representative told Sunday's meeting the council had been considering either membership of the Western Region Commission or formation of a region, perhaps to the north-eastern area, Cr. Myers said.

His strong feeling now, however, was that Essendon would become a permanent member of the commission.

Cr. Myers said the Melton Council representative pointed out that at least six Melton councillors probably supported the commission.

Melton had been represented at all meetings and made financial contributions, he added.

Cr. Myers said that after Sunday's meeting he felt sure a strong mission would soon be established and that all 10 councils would be members.

He added that an important decision was reached on Sunday on the resolution of the Mayor of Footscray Cr. Fred Maddern and Cr. Bryan Bailey, of Keilor, regarding membership.

This was that each council have one representative or a substitute representative; standing committees have one representative, with full voting rights and other members by the Commonwealth Liaison Officer and two Victorian State Members of Parliament representing the western region.

Mayor's message

Sporting facilities and activities are high on the list of priorities for the City of Altona.

This is the major point to emerge in a message from the Mayor of Altona, Cr. H. Weaver.

Cr. Weaver also gives hope of early connection of sewerage in the Grieve Parade area in his message which reads as follows:

Our population growth continues. At present day is in excess of 32,000. Homes are going up at the rate of one a day and last year 704 babies were born.

Figures released by the Bureau of Census and Statistics show that very few people leave this area to reside in other parts and the records of the municipality show that many old residents are coming back to Altona to live.

We are fortunate that our Public Open Space is well in excess of the MMBW, Planning Standards and even with further population growth will enable the people of Altona to enjoy facilities at a higher standard than available in other built up areas.

Forward planning envisages that the population will grow to 55,000 within the next 5 years, and the Council has already advised Commonwealth and State Governments of its forward planning in order that the various Government Departments can assist Council in the planning and provision of essential community facilities.

In line with Council policy to reclaim areas for Public Open Space, the Council has acquired at cost of $81,000 — two quarry holes at the intersection of Blackshaws Road with Grieve Parade.

These areas are in close proximity to W. L. J. Crofts Reserve and will give the northern part of the municipality a major sports area, similar to John K. Grant Reserve as existing in the southern part of the municipality.

In addition the Council has already approved the construction at A. W. Langshaw Reserve of a major sports and social pavilion to service the requirements of the clubs using that area, and a modern pavilion is to be erected for the Altona Tennis Club.

The council has made a submission to the Government for an allocation of $120,000 for the provision of a hall at Altona West and it is anticipated that the hall would be of such design that it can be used for cultural purposes.

The council has a policy whereby it invests its Sinking Funds for repayment of loans with the Melbourne and Metropolitan Board of Works and this assists the financing of sewer extensions within the municipality. The MMBW is currently planning further extension which will bring the sewer as far forward as Millers Road, Seaholme.

With industry paying the cost of sewer extension in Grieve Parade, the council has asked that the design be such that the Wimpey Estate area can be connected to that sewer.

The Board of Works has also advised that it is designing sewer extension to serve pockets in Altona North which are not at present connected to the sewer.

The essence of community living is participation and in Altona we are indeed fortunate that we have so many clubs and organisations which permit citizen activity.

Through these clubs and organisations we can all contribute to the provision of those things which make our City of residence a much better place in which to live.

We are fortunate that we have a council which contributes so much to community activity and invites citizen participation in its various functions.

The council likes to see as many citizens as possible attend council meetings and this gives councillors the opportunity to discuss with residents plans for progress and development in the years ahead so that not only we but our children may enjoy the high standards which a progressive and forward thinking community may expect.

GULLS' ADMIN. MEN BLAMED

The administration and coach of the Williamstown Football Club must take the blame for the side's poor performances this season, a supporter says in a letter to the Advertiser.

Mr. J. Newton, 75, of Milleara Road, Newport, writes: "I have read with interest your paper, particularly the sporting section, and have followed the problems of both the Williamstown and Footscray football clubs. "Evidently there are problems confronting western suburbs senior teams in general.

"Certainly, Williamstown has a new president and coach, who naturally must be given time to settle in.

"But as an observer around the club, I feel that the atmosphere at all levels — firsts, seconds and thirds — is deplorable.

"Gone is the good comradeship between players which existed in the Papley-Johnson era.

"I feel that the present coaches and executive administrators have to take the blame. After all, administration is 95 per cent. of a successful club.

'DISGRACEFUL'

"Last Sunday was a disgraceful exhibition, even though the team won.

"It is beyond me how the senior coach and selectors let the full-forward turn his back after a behind was kicked and allow the full-back to run off.

"This happened three times, but still nothing was done.

"And why did the head trainer and selectors clear as fit to play a full-back who was obviously carrying a leg injury from the start of the game?

"In such a vital game, this was an insult to the club's supporters. If we had lost last Sunday, we could have been relegated.

"Possibly, if some of the people running the club got out of the coach's box, the coach or senior selector may see what's going on.

"I hope my criticisms are taken as the way a supporter sees what is happening. And I hope appropriate steps are taken to get the club back on its feet.

"I also wonder why the club did not appoint a local player as coach of the seconds. Please keep this suggestion in mind for next season, as there are many players who give their all for the club, both on and off the field, and would be worthy candidates.

"Finally, I would like to see the club give the local boys a better deal.

"Remember our 1939 grand final team."

Another Guide leader on trip

A second Williamstown Girl Guide movement leader has been sent overseas to represent Australia at an international guide conference.

She is Joy Grant 19, of Spicer Street, Williamstown, who recently transferred from the Williamstown guide district to Newport.

Joy works at the Williamstown Naval Dockyard and migrated to Australia from the United Kingdom in 1965. She gained her Queen's Guide qualification in 1970.

Her trip will take her to County Durham, in her native England.

Last month, a Williamstown guide leader flew to Oslo, Norway, on a similar mission.

Schools in west get cash boost

Four western suburbs schools have benefited from $10.5 million worth of contracts for educational projects.

They are Avondale High, Avondale Heights, Deer Park High, Paisley High, Newport and Kealba High, St. Albans.

In addition stage one of the Werribee Technical School is also included in the projects.

Work involved will be: Avondale High, extensions to canteen, library, arts and crafts.

Deer Park High, extensions to science, arts and crafts and canteen.

Paisley High, extensions to humanities, science, toilets and lockers.

Kealba High, extensions administration and humanities.

The projects are part of what the Public Works Department is calling the "big push" to provide new and improved educational facilities in Victoria as quickly as possible.

The $10.5 million will be spread over extensions on 16 high schools and the start of two new technical schools.

The Minister for Public

Works, Mr. Roberts Dunstan, said: "The Public Works Department has made every possible effort to accelerate the planning, administrative and contractual processes involved in these projects so construction can begin at the earliest possible date.

"We are responding to the increase of funds for capital works in education with maximum effort and the calling of tenders for so many major projects in such a relatively short period is indicative of our determination to expend all funds made available for improved educational facilities."

Theft from transport depot

A car radio worth $150 and a gaber-dine jacket valued at $17 have been stolen from a Newport-based transport company's yard.

The theft was from a prime mover parked in the unlocked yard of Strachan Liquid Transport, in McRobert Street.

The thieves manipulated the lock on the prime mover.

Detectives from Footscray CIB are investigating.

LOCAL SCHOOLS IN BAND TESTS

District schools will take part in the annual instrumental music festival of the Victorian State Schools' Band Association.

The festival will be held at the Kew Civic Centre, from August 6 to 8.

More than 2000 children from primary and secondary schools throughout Victoria will be performing in band items, quartets, duets and solos.

The western suburbs will be represented by Williamstown Technical School, Footscray Technical School and Footscray Primary School.

All will be performing in the brass section.

The organisers, the music branch of the Education Department and the Victorian State Schools' Band

BIG IN SOUND, TALENT, NUMBERS

It's hard to say who gets more pleasure from the pop band, 'Bulk Hassels' — the musicians or the audience.

This eight piece band, comprising district boys has certainly made itself heard in recent months.

Malcolm McDonald, 20, who is a drummer, said group member, Leigh Dunstan, 19, a fellow drummer, was the one who wanted to put together a band.

The boys will be playing at a dance in Williamstown Technical School during the first week in August.

Other members of the band are Paul McAusland

No loss in breaking

Would-be thieves who broke into a house in Woods Street, Newport, were searching only for cash, police believe.

The house is occupied by Mr. John Duggan, a butcher, and his family.

There was no money in the house when the breaking occurred, between 8.30 a.m. and 3.35 p.m., last Monday.

The intruders entered through an unlocked front window and ransacked the house.

Cash goes in raid on house

Thieves who broke into a house in Oxford Street, Newport, got away with $65 in cash.

The money belonged to the occupier of the house, Mr. James Walters, a laborer.

WHERE HAVE ALL THE KIDS GONE?

Altona is in danger of losing its subsidy for the Parkside Crescent Kindergarten in Seaholme.

To qualify for the subsidy a kinder must have 20 children enrolled. Only 11 children have been enrolled at Parkside so far.

During the year, the Altona council has obtained Health Department approval for additional sessions on Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

The maximum enrolment for the additional classes is 25 — so 14 vacancies exist at Parkside Crescent.

Unless sufficient enrolments can be made in the next fortnight the council will lose its subsidy, and kindergarten services will be reduced.

The Town Clerk, Mr. S. Fell, invites parents in the Seaholme — Altona area whose children will be eligible for school next year to enrol at the kindergarten.

The service is free.

The God Squad—bringing religion to the bikies.

GOD SQUAD GOES TO THE BIKIES

God Squad was established last year in an attempt to bring Christianity to bikies.

Previously bikies had been unreachable as they reject traditional forms of religion.

And on Sunday the work of the God Squad, a group of young people who ride on motor bikes in traditional biker gear, will be brought to the Newport Baptist Church, in Mason Street.

The Squad will take the 7 p.m. service and at 8.30 p.m. God Squad's John Holberton will speak at a special coffee shop arranged by the Men's Society and Youth tea.

John is no amateur in the problems of youth, his experience is wide and far-reaching.

It includes being founder of the Marantha Youth Guidance Rehabilitation Centre, North Queensland, serving with the United States Armed Forces, association with the Billy Graham crusades, association with the Haight Ashbury Free Medical Clinic in San Francisco and President Nixon's Special Task Force for the prevention of drug abuse.

He is administrator of the God Squad and is married with two children.

Arnold Coleman in recital

Arnold Coleman, 76, will play at the Michael Hendry International Organ Club next Tuesday.

Mr. Coleman will be well known to fans of organ music as one of Australia's greatest theatre organists.

Mr. Coleman first played at the Capitol Theatre in the early twenties before moving on to the Sydney Capital where he played a huge big three-keyboard console.

He was approached in 1929 to open the New State Theatre on Australia's largest ever four-keyboard grand theatre organ and stayed with the theatre for 15 years.

On Tuesday he will play a varied programme which will include pop songs and show tunes on a Kimball Apollo theatre organ. The club will meet at the Manchester Unity Hall.

Mrs. Rose with her son, Stuart, 4.

Baby-sitting service opened in W'stown

The mother of four young children has opened a baby-sitting agency at 123 Melbourne Road, Williamstown.

Mrs. J. Rose, a member of the Beta Sigma Phi, Williamstown Chapter, has experienced the need for properly supervised baby sitters when she wanted to go out.

The agency will service Williamstown, Altona and Newport.

Mrs. Rose believes there are no baby sitting agencies in the western suburbs.

She hopes to care for the children of mothers who want to go shopping, have the night out, keep working when their children are home ill from school, have their children minded after school or attend meetings.

The booking hours are 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Interested people could contact the agency on 397-7281.

Charges are: day rates — 65 cents an hour for one child and 75 cents an hour for two or more children.

Evening rates are 75 cents an hour and $1 an hour after 1 a.m.

Booking fee is 80 cents for week days and $1 for weekends.

Mrs. Rose feels hers is a much needed service which may prevent nervous disorders in mothers who have too little time to themselves.

Ron's sound advice

The new president of the Altona Lions Club, Mr. Ron Tribe (pictured) has opened his own real estate agency in 221 Hampshire Road, Sunshine.

We all know the kind of high powered real-estate man whose only motive is to sell, sell, sell, at any cost.

But Mr. Tribe's approach to business is completely different. Working as a real estate adviser at Wiltona Hostel for three years, it was Mr. Tribe's job to help migrants get into homes.

"I had to make sure they didn't over-commit themselves," Mr. Tribe said.

"You had to prevent them from getting into trouble. The maximum amount one should spend on rent is 25 per cent. of a husband's wages. The same goes for paying off a house," he said.

Mr. Tribe knows people don't get much pleasure from a house if they don't know where next week's payment is coming from.

Right now it's a sellers' market, Mr. Tribe said. "During the past nine months, the price of houses jumped by 20 per cent.," he added.

"But real estate will always be a good investment," he claimed.

Mr. Tribe, who lives in Altona, enjoys playing with the Altona Bowling Club, where his wife is president.

He thinks that on the whole, it is more satisfying for a young couple to buy land and build their own home but they often have to wait a long time to see it finished.

"If you see something you like, buy it," he advised.

ENGAGEMENTS

WINDSOR - EVANS. — Dianne and Tom together with their parents Ron and Nancy Winder of 6 Upton Street, Altona, with Lillian and Mich Evans of 47 Woodoowin Ave., Woodoowin, Brisbane, happily announce their engagement.

DEATHS

CRUSE, Oliver George. — Beloved husband of Violet Lavinia, dearest dad of Basil and Phyllis Cruse, Hazel (dec.), Gwen and Harold Johns, Jack (dec.), Elaine and Ray Hill, loving poppa of 6 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren. So dearly loved, so sadly missed.

GOVAN, Margaret Eleanor. — Dearly loved mother and Champ of Irene and Alan. Very dear nan of Wendy and Keith, Peter, Jill and Sue. "Our Gallant Little Mum at Rest."

DEATHS

GOVAN, Margaret Eleanor. — On July 30, 1973. At Vermont dearly beloved wife of the late Leslie James. Deeply loved and loving mother of Olive (dec.), Irene (Mrs. A. Gittens) and Mavis (Mrs. H. Jack). Aged 73 years. Interred Footscray Cemetery, 1/8/73.

GOVAN, Margaret. — Loved pal of Elma. How rich we were who knew her love.

RICHARDS (Fisher) Dorothy Ruth Gwendoline. — Passed away in her sleep on July 29, loved wife of Thomas (dec.), loved mother of Graham, June, and Lorraine. Fond mother-in-law of Shirley, Arthur, and Greg, Loving nana of Jenny, Debbie, Gail, Stuart, Simon, Malcolm, and Angela.

DEATHS

RODGER. — On July 24, at her home 80 Victoria Street, Williamstown. Pearis Margaret, dearly beloved daughter of the late Peter and Adelaide Rodger, dearly loving sister of Jean. "Peacefully sleeping" Privately interred Williamstown Cemetery, 26/7/73.

IN MEMORIAM

GERRING. — In loving memory of my dear husband, Robert, who fell asleep August 6th, 1969. Without goodbye you went to sleep. Memories of you are mine to keep. When last we saw your smiling face. You looked so bright and well. But little did we know dear Bob. It was your last farewell. — Your loving wife, Mildred, Bob, Shirley, John and Jennifer.

IN MEMORIAM

ALLSOPP. — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Freddie, passed away August 4th, 1947. There is a bridge that leads Beyond the world of time and space Through a green and peaceful valley To a lovely dwelling place Happiness and days that never end Across the bridge beyond The peaceful valley's bends. — Inserted by his loving father and mother, brother, Ted, sister, Mary, sister-in-law, Ann and children.

JARRAD. — Loving memories of our dear parents Alice and Wigan. Passed away August, 1965. Remembered always. Fred, Bonnie, Fred, Jeff, and Graeme.

MEAD. — In loving memory of my beloved husband Ted, and our adored Dad. Passed away 1st of August 1963. One year goes another comes. The gates of memory never close. Sadly missed, wife, Iris, daughters, Marg., Bev. and families.

MOLLAND. — In loving memory of Miss M. M. Molland.

MOLLAND. — In loving memory of Miss M. M. Molland, headmistress of "Strathmore" Grammar School, Williamstown. A friend to all. My first day at school — I remember so well. It wasn't too good — I sure gave her hell. Miss Molland my teacher — who taught me to spell. "Aga Quod Agas" — What you do — do well. We all were her family, the hundreds like me. Her patience helped each one the better to be. She was there through the years and smiled with real joy. As she gazed in our prams, at our girl or our boy. Her name was Miss Molland — I think just the same. That "Miss Dedication" was her middle name. Nostalgia? A little — for days that are gone. My wonderful teacher — your memory lives on. — Mrs. R. J. Fraser (nee Mavis L. Cooper), former student.

THANKS

BRANES. — The Branes family of 32 Mitchell Avenue and the Scrocca family of number 34 wish to THANK Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver for their lovely gifts.

GREEN. — I would like to THANK all relatives, friends, and neighbors for floral tributes, cards and other forms of help in the sad loss of my beloved husband Tommy. My special thanks to Harry Hayward and all his mates from Victoria Inn, also his workmates of the Williamstown Council. Thanks also to Dr. Soppitt and Williamstown Hospital. Please accept this as my personal thanks and appreciation. — Brenda Green.

Giant-killer holds key

By LAURIE SCHWAB

Keilor City, which has long had a reputation as a big-match team, could do Sunshine City a favor on Saturday by beating Mooroolbark at Churchill Reserve, St. Albans.

Last week Mooroolbark replaced Sunshine on top of the ladder and is now first in line for promotion to State League.

Sunshine, which at one stage held a five-point lead at the top of the ladder, has suddenly fallen in a heap. All it can do now is hope that Mooroolbark will drop a couple of points.

If any team is to beat the Bakers, it is Keilor, which has the accomplished opponents. Who could forget the way Keilor disposed of Wertheim in the 1970 Dockerty Cup and then followed up in 1971 with victories over Hellas and Polonia?

Last year it was one of the only two teams to beat champion Slavia and the year before it was the only team to beat Mooroolbark at home managed only a 2-1 victory over Keilor, but with a home ground advantage Keilor should do better.

It will be most important for Keilor to closely mark Mooroolbark's player coach Brian Edgley, who has scored 15 goals this season.

Mooroolbark's other key man is linkman and playmaker Terry Lane, who was bought last year from Hakoah for a large fee.

If Keilor can keep these two at bay without marring its own game, it will be half-way home.

Meanwhile, Mooroolbark's main rival Sunshine will travel to Essendon to meet Lions.

Mooroolbark beat Lions 6-0 last week but this doesn't necessarily mean Sunshine will also score a bag-full, as its forwards have not been successful in recent weeks.

However, I don't doubt Sunshine will win to keep its promotion hopes alive.

West's v. St. Albans

St. Albans may be without its star striker Eric Lindberg for the match against West-ern. Suburbs at Castley Reserve on Saturday.

Lindberg, who engineered one of the Saints' two goals against Altona last week, was sent off after a disagreement with Gerry Althelm.

If he is suspended, the Saints short-stuffed forward line will really be struggling.

West's played well to hold Sunshine to a scoreless draw last week and if they reproduce that form, they could score a narrow victory over St. Albans and thus replace the Saints in sixth place.

The more likely result however, is a draw due to St. Albans' strong defence.

Altona v. Ajax

It took Altona until well into the second half last week to establish its superiority and score a 4-2 victory over St. Albans.

David Lord opened the scoring in the 40th minute after a good pass by Gernome Kelly but three minutes later a back-heeler from Eric Lindberg smashed home by Ted Cassidy for the equaliser.

Lord made it 2-1 two minutes after half-time but against Cassidy equaliser.

It was not until eight minutes from the end that Altona streaked ahead.

Anthony Hamill headed home a Wally Mellak cross and then repeated the feat with help by Steve Wong. It was Altona's first away win of the season.

However, Altona has been far from consistent this season, so Saturday's game against Ajax at Kim Reserve could go either way.

J.U.S.T. v. Box Hill

Clutching desperately to the State League leadership after its loss to Hellas last week, Footscray J.U.S.T. will appreciate the drop in class when it meets Box Hill at Schlatter Reserve on Saturday.

Although Box Hill has always proved a bogey team to J.U.S.T., there is no possible way the Yugoslavs can lose this one.

Rather, they must emulate George Cross' recent feat in scoring eight goals against the Hillmen, for J.U.S.T.'s forwards certainly need a morale-booster.

They must also start showing more fight because next week they'll lose Branko Buljevic and Jimmy Millsavljic to the national squad.

If J.U.S.T. can march on to the championship without these key players, it will certainly have earned the honor.

Meanwhile, Slobodan Zoraja will be back after having missed a last week's match against Hellas.

He'll be interested not only in boosting his team but also in the $350 prize-money waiting to be collected by the league's top scorer at the end of the season.

Zoraja currently trails Joe Cunningham of George Cross by two goals. Cunningham scored six against Box Hill, so Zoraja could catch up with a bagful on Saturday.

Polonia v. Melbourne

Although Polonia had a few close shaves against Juventus last week, it did well to win 3-1.

I was impressed by the enterprise of Richard Bodziony in midfield. Although, he faded badly in the latter stages of the match, he showed enough early to suggest he will develop into a useful player.

George Nieroblez also turned in a good display and will soon be playing as well as he did with Keilor City.

He proved most valuable when he got close to goal, so coach Ian Petherick must be smiling.

I'm sure he wasn't smiling last Sunday however, because his defence often looked as if it would crack.

Goalkeeper Miro Litwin had a poor match and neither Mike Olinowski nor Eddy Marmur played to the standard we've come to expect. I'd say the only defender who couldn't be criticised was left back Bernie Klimecki.

In Melbourne, Polonia faces a tougher opponent than Juventus.

However, I'm sure Polonia can play better than it did against Juventus and I doubt that Olinowski or Marmur will be unduly troubled by a Melbourne attack which is still only mediocre despite the recent addition of 15-year-old wonder boy Duncan Cummings.

Austria v. Hellas

Austria deserves credit for holding the powerful George Cross to a 1-1 draw last week but I can't see it repeating the performance against Hellas at Schlatter Reserve on Sunday.

Austria will be beaten badly in midfield by Hellas' trio Ian Marshall, Peter Bourne and John Daperis.

Combating this trio will be John Truszkowski, Drago Jurcan and Ivan Turic who have puny talent in comparison.

To make things worse for Austria, its best linkman, Frank McColgan, will be on the way home to Scotland.

At least the return of Jock Goodwin should keep Hellas score to a modest level.

Wilhelmina v. Austria

For most of the season Wilhelmina has been unable to translate its talent into consistent victories.

With players like Rudi Muskee, Rob McGinn, Mike Pye, David Garthwaite and Bob Smith in its team, Wilhelmina deserves a much higher position than it has.

At Ringwood on Sunday, George Cross will be hoping this talent doesn't suddenly produce results.

Certainly the Cross has cause to worry after last week's performance against Austria.

It must be clear to the club by now that John Gardiner is being wasted as sweeper.

He does a good job there but he could be much more valuable in attacking midfield roles as he proved against Hellas recently when he blasted home a perfect goal.

Appeal to all clubs

An appeal is being made to all soccer clubs on behalf of junior player Neil Helms.

Neil, who plays for Karungal, has a serious heart ailment which could prove fatal if he does not have an operation.

The type of operation he needs, however, can be carried out only at a hospital in the U.S. so Neil and his mother need $12,000 to make it possible.

Altona City and its supporters have donated a total of $75 to start the ball rolling in the western suburbs.

On Sunday, Langwarrin and Sandringham will play a charity match at the Karungal ground and all proceeds will help meet Neil's expenses.

Rasic spying

National soccer coach Zvonimir Rasic will fly to New Zealand on August 11 on a mission which could give Australia a place in the 1974 World Cup finals in West Germany.

Rasic will watch the match between New Zealand and Australia's next World Cup opponent, Iran.

The Australia v. Iran match will take place at Sydney Sports Ground on Saturday, August 18.

In New Zealand Rasic will study closely Iran's tactics for the Sydney game.

He last saw Iran play in its elimination tournament against North Korea in Teheran and concluded that Iran could be beaten by an aggressive midfield which applied constant pressure on the defence.

"In Ray Richards, Jim Mackay, Johnny Warren and Ray Baartz, we have such midfielders," Rasic said yesterday.

"But because we will use only three linkmen, either Warren or Baartz will line up in attack."

Rasic's determination not to name his reduced 18-man squad for the return match against Iran on August 24, was justified at the weekend when former Victorian linkman Jim Rooney injured his leg.

The injury may mean Rooney's withdrawal from the World Cup squad.

When Rasic won his fight to take a full complement of 22 players into camp, he provided himself with enough players to compensate for injuries.

He will recall either Billy Rogers or Terry Butler to make up the 22 and he will not name the 18 for the return match until next Wednesday or Thursday.

Rasic has chosen veteran defender John Watkins to take over the important defensive post vacated by injured "Iron man" Manfred Schaefer.

He is particularly impressed with the current form of Victorian, Billy Vojtek, who seems almost certain to be chosen for the match in Sydney.

'ONE WAY' FOR FREE LAW AID

The only satisfactory way free and assisted legal aid can be provided is by the operation of the Legal Aid Committee, western suburbs lawyers believe.

The president of the Western Suburbs Law Association, Mr. Pat Cannon, said this yesterday.

The association comprises solicitors in Footscray, Williamstown, Altona and Werribee.

Mr. Cannon was commenting on a proposal by the Western Suburbs Consumer Association to establish a free legal service, possibly at Footscray.

He said it was essential people receiving legal services other than by briefing a private solicitor should receive the same attention and standard of representation.

If assisted clients did not, they suffered by receiving a lesser service, resulting in the administration of the law falling into disrepute.

The Law Association felt this risk could be avoided only through the operation of the Legal Aid Committee, whereby even though a person was financially assisted by the committee he was referred to a solicitor in private practice and was treated the same as any other client.

The association had been considering the free legal aid position for several months and had set up a sub-committee to probe the issue.

The sub-committee considered the concept of a referral service was acceptable, but no actual legal work should be undertaken by organisations such as the Consumers Association.

KINDER LEADER MOVES

Mrs. Judith Carruthers, kindergarten director at Altona City's Lindwood Avenue Kindergarten for the past four years, has been appointed to supervise a pilot family day-care scheme in the City of Knox.

Mrs. Carruthers will leave at the end of this term. She will be responsible for organising family day-care services, a relatively new concept in Australia.

The idea is for children of pre-school age to be placed in selected family homes as an alternative to establishing day-care centres.

No more than four children will be placed in any one home.

Altona's Town Clerk, Mr. S. Fell, says the municipality will watch the pilot study at Knox, with a view to considering a similar scheme at Altona.

"ATHLETE OF THE DECADE"

PROTECT YOUR SWING AGAINST 'ENERGY LEAKS'

You'll be less likely to lose valuable distance on your shots if you understand what causes "energy leaks" in your swing.

Illustration #1 depicts the most common waste of built-in power ... bending the left arm (usually near the top of the backswing). Keep this arm extended even if it means shortening your swing.

Illustration #2 typifies many golfers, especially women, who assume that a long backswing guarantees maximum distance. They swing back so far that the back of the left wrist collapses and cups inward ... another way to waste power.

Finally, illustration #3 shows the problem of swaying laterally to the left during the forward swing. This robs the clubhead of centrifugal force and thus slows it down. The part of your body that should be farthest to the left when you strike the ball is your left knee.

MAZDA-A STEP FORWARD

The introduction recently of the Mazda 929 sedan and hardtop marks an important step forward by the Japanese Toyo Kogyo concern into a new area of the motor market.

Limousine luxury for five occupants is combined with compact exterior dimensions. The overall length of the sedan is under 14 ft. and the width 5 1/2 ft. yet the wheelbase is 99 in. and the track 54 in. It is this wide spacing of the wheels that makes possibly the roomy interior.

The wide track has the additional benefit of providing roll-free cornering and safe handling. Front and rear overhang is kept to the minimum and the tyres are wide 175 SR-13 radials.

Every imaginable fitment is included in the specification as a standard item: fully reclining front bucket seats, push-button radio, heated rear window, variable speed and "pause" screen wipers, full carpets, hazard flashers are just a few examples.

The comprehensive tool kit includes even a tin of touch-up paint and if a thorough search fails to reveal the radio antenna, that's because it is in the form of a fine wire embedded in the windscreen.

With the quality of finish both inside and out even Mazda, have excelled themselves; no effort has been spared to insulate the occupants from the outside world. And, as a reminder of the interior width, there are three seat belts at the rear.

The major difference between the 929 and the recently introduced RX4 rotary lies in the engine compartment. The 929s have a new advanced 1.8 litre overhead camshaft engine which follows Mazda rationalisation policy by having many parts in common with the 1.6 litre unit, thus easing spares availability and reducing costs.

The rotary engines of the RX series cars tend to divert attention from Mazda's piston units but, in fact, the metallurgical research which has gone into rotary engine development over the past 12 years has been of considerable benefit to all Mazda engines, which have an enviable reputation for high power and trouble-free reliability. The new unit produces 110 brake horsepower and provides very lively performance.

Considerable efforts have been made to cut servicing time to the minimum in the design of the 929. Greased chassis points need attention only at two-year or 32,000-mile intervals, for example; the radiator is sealed and the engine compartment has been carefully designed to provide easy access to all servicing points.

Safety equipment includes full "crushability" and safety cell construction, dual-circuit braking, divided headlamp circuit so that two lamps remain lit if a fuse blows, very extensive interior padding and elimination of sharp edges. And pollution control has been achieved with no loss of engine power.

'WE CARE', SAYS GP

People criticising over the proposed National Health Scheme were talking a "lot of rubbish," a western region doctor said this week.

"We want an upgrading in payments for pensioners, better service for pensioners and the Federal Government to mind its own business."

Dr. Michael Bergman, one of 16 militant Sunshine doctors, said this in reply to union and federal parliamentary criticism.

The Amalgamated Metal Workers' Union and MHR, Mr. Ralph Willis, have protested against the doctors' stand in refusing to accept Commonwealth payment for pensioner treatment.

Dr. Bergman said: "No

pensioner will go without treatment in the area.

"Those pensioners in medial benefits will pay the minimum cost to enable them to receive all the money back."

"Uninsured pensioners will be treated free."

"The planned Government scheme for pensioners is inadequate. We are not objecting to treating pensioners. We are objecting to the Government telling us how we should treat them."

Dr. Bergman said the proposed scheme would only provide a second class service to pensioners.

He said none of his pensioner patients would go without care. He estimated they comprised one third of his practice.

BODY WORK & TYRES

Inspect bodywork for obvious defects in panels, look for rust. Ensure doors close smoothly and lock securely, headlights, parking and stop lights work effectively. Turn indicators in working order? Look for unevenly worn tyres.

UNDER THE BONNET

Test the engine for starting, smooth idling, undue exhaust, is the engine clean, no oil leaks. Listen for excessive noise. Test drive to check acceleration and power. Clutch, gears, steering and braking, electrical and cooling systems.

INTERIOR

Check floor, ceiling for cleanliness and condition, seating for upholstery springs. Check steering, accelerator and brake pedals, sun visors, dash panel, speedo, fuel gauge, etc.
